DOCTORS IN ROW OVER CALF

Turmoil and Confusion Rampant in Health Department

Board Members Quiz Action of Doctor Hill

Charges of interference and conflict between various inspectors in the food bureau, which has thrown the municipal health department into a turmoil of confusion, are being investigated today by A. N. Thompson, head of the food bureau, and City Health Officer Dr. R. M. Higgins. The row threatens the disruption of the office force of the department. Although it is reported that the present trouble was caused through the alleged interference of Dr. J. A. Hill, city veterinarian, in the appointment of Charles Martin, chief deputy meat inspector, both Dr. Higgins and Thompson this morning absolutely refused to divulge any information regarding the matter. Dr. Higgins, although he is known to have had Dr. Hill "on the carpet" yesterday afternoon, denied emphatically that he had any knowledge of the affair which has disrupted the force of his department.

RETICENCE ON SUBJECT

"I will not discuss the matter at this time," Thompson said. "An investigation is being made and it will be time to talk then. I will say nothing now. Of course, I want it understood that I say this in a friendly spirit."

The row which is the cause of the present internal dissension occurred Tuesday morning, when Dr. Hill is reported to have gone to a slaughter house in the outskirts of the city and arbitrarily reversed the opinion of Martin, who has complete charge of the meat inspection for the city, on a calf said to have been tubercular. Martin had condemned the animal and refused to permit it to be sent out and placed on sale in the butcher shops.

Dr. Hill, it is charged, inspected the same calf and pronounced its flesh sufficiently healthy to permit of its being placed on the market. The veal was sold in this city yesterday. Martin and Dr. Hill called a meeting with Thompson and Dr. White, who heads the dairying inspection work for the city, that same morning. A word war occurred at this session, in which Dr. Hill is said to have admitted that the carcass was tubercular.

DR. HILL QUESTIONED

Dr. Higgins is said to have been present at this meeting, although he denied it today. Thompson, when asked if Dr. Higgins was present, refused to answer the question. Martin could not disclose the matter.

"I can say nothing," Martin said. "The matter is in the hands of my superior, Mr. Thompson."

Dr. Hill was in the private office of Dr. Higgins for several hours yesterday afternoon and was questioned by his superior at great length. All concerned emphatically refused to discuss the row, at first denying that any trouble had occurred.

"I know absolutely nothing about this matter," Dr. Higgins said this morning. "I refer you to Mr. Thompson."

Service for George Fitch Is Planned

A funeral service for the late George Fitch, humorist and magazine writer, who died suddenly at Berkeley, Cal., recently, will be held at Galva, Ills., Tuesday afternoon according to announcement made here today. The remains which have been held at Berkeley will leave the city on Friday, accompanied by a sister and the widow.

A special train has been chartered to take Fitch's friends from the late writer to Galva.

Vern Smith Refused Writ of Mandate

Sitting en banc Superior Judges W. H. Donahue, E. J. Brown and W. M. Conner today denied the petition of Vern Smith, a tailor at the University of California for a writ of mandate to compel President Benjamin Ide Wheeler and the members of the faculty in the College of Commerce to reinstate him. Smith was suspended last April for the period of one year and prevented from graduating. It was charged that he had taken a knife from a locker in the Harmon gymnasium. He was given a hearing before the Student Affairs Committee.

SALARY OF MAYOR DAVIE TO BE LEVIED ON FOR ALLEGED DEBT

Efforts to compromise a debt of $455.61 alleged to have been owed by Mayor John L. Davie on a note given to the Union National Bank August, 1907, for a loan of $2901.65 are being made by Attorneys Ostrander, Clark & Carey in behalf of the receiver for the defunct banking institution.

Tomorrow the petition of the receiver to compromise the alleged debt by the sum of $3500 will come up for hearing before Superior Judge William H. Waste. Authorization for the action was received from the comptroller of the currency. The plaintiff

Society Leader Is Proxy in Arrest

Mrs. Tyler Henshaw Pays Auto Law Fine

Mrs. Tyler Henshaw, one of the most prominent of east bay society leaders, starred in a one-act sketch, "A Prisoner by Proxy," this morning. She served as proxy for her husband, Tyler Henshaw, the banker and capitalist, by permitting herself to be arrested in his stead.

The police record, which, by the way, leads a brand new sheet of the police blotter, reads: "Tyler Henshaw, banker, violating ordinance 607." The Blue Book bears the same name, but not a similar inscription in its trail.

Henshaw drove Mrs. Henshaw to his offices in the Union Savings Bank building in Mrs. Henshaw's electric car at 11 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Henshaw went to her husband's offices with him. She remained an hour. The traffic ordinance decrees that her car should have remained on the street but half an hour.

Patrolman C. B. Pleasants is the recorder of persons who duty calls. So he left a little card in the Henshaw electric instructing the finder to call at room 104 of the city hall. Mrs. Henshaw found the card. She called at the city hall. Meeting a stranger in the hall she received directions as to the location of room 104, which happens to be the room of the booking sergeant.

"I was asked to call on you," she said to Desk Sergeant John H. Nedderman, presenting the card which Pleasants had left with her.

"We're glad to see you," smiled Nedderman. "You are under arrest."

"Gh!" gasped Mrs. Henshaw, "What for?"

Nedderman explained. Mrs. Henshaw said that her husband had driven the machine. She consented, however, to act as his proxy for purposes of arrest. She had no money with her, she explained, but she was permitted to return to her home at 349 Vernon street, from whence she sent her chauffeur with the $10 bail money.

RESIGNS FROM SUFFRAGE UNION

Characterizing the propaganda work of the Woman Voters' convention as "too undemocratic for a national equal suffrage movement," Mrs. Nelle Bullock, chairman of the Alameda county committee, today sent her resignation to the Congressional Union headquarters at the Exposition.

This is the first expression of the indignation held by the steering local women who have been campaigning for the success of the convention to be held in San Francisco from September 13 to September 15. It is rumored, however, that more resignations are to follow.

According to the local suffrage workers the Eastern women sent out pleas for their assistance in organizing and are ranging far and wide to collect them. They are planning a mass meeting and a rally to be held in San Francisco and a suffrage pageant to be put on in the Grand Auditorium.

But when the Eastern leaders arrived headed by Miss Alice Paul of Washington, D. C., as executive head, all these features were immediately cancelled and in their place were substitutes various social gatherings from which the general public would necessarily be excluded.

Moreover, it is alleged, the newcomers have absolutely ignored the Alameda county workers who have been zealously preparing at their own request, for their coming.

The calendar of events issued for the Woman's suffrage convention included a luncheon on the opening day, a reception and ball and possibly another luncheon on the second day. In addition it has been announced that the delegates and their friends are to be entertained by Mrs. William Kent, wife of Representative John L. Kent, in Marin county, and Mrs. Charlotte A. Whitney, president of the California branch of the Congressional Union is scheduled to extend greetings from the women of this State.

British Submarines Sink Four Turkish Transports in the Dardanelles

ALLIES MAY AID CZAR

Two English Warships Are Destroyed in Jutland Naval Engagement According to Berlin's Reiteration

PARIS, Sept. 2, 2:35 p. m.—Four Turkish transports have been torpedoed by British submarines.

Announcement to this effect was made here officially as follows:

"In the Dardanelles the last week of August has been calm throughout on the southern front. In the northern zone British troops delivered successful attacks which put them in possession of a hillock to the west of Buvuk Anafarta which had been contested keenly.

"Cardinal Gibbons said that the settlement of the submarine issue between the United States and Germany had greatly aided the cause of peace and had placed the United States in a very advantageous position to be of service in bringing to an end the conflict abroad. He said he had informed the President that he believed this to be true.

"While the cardinal could not go into details regarding his message from the Pope, it was indicated that it was in the nature of a suggestion that neutral powers join with the Vatican in making further efforts to restore peace. The cardinal said that the plan in mind was along the general lines of recent public discussion of the question in newspapers. After leaving the President the cardinal, his face wreathed in smiles, greeted his wife and children, who had been waiting outside, and said that he had discussed peace with the President.

"In answer to inquiries he said he had brought to the President a message from the Pope. He added that he wanted to talk with Secretary Lansing on peace and go over the same details he had taken with President Wilson.

"The cardinal laid emphasis on his belief that the lessening of tension between the United States and Germany would have much to do with the possibilities of restoring peace.

"It was indicated that the basis for his belief was a suggestion that it might be possible to get an agreement between the United States and Great Britain for guaranteeing the freedom of the seas and in that way to start a discussion of peace terms.

"The cardinal indicated broadly that he believed negotiations soon would be under way to end the war. He indicated that further developments might become known soon.

"After leaving the White House the cardinal walked to the state department to see Secretary Lansing.

EMBASSIES INTERESTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—At the embassies of the allies the cardinal's visit to the White House was viewed with lively interest, but none of the officials there expressed any hope for immediate outcome of the peace talk. Later it was revealed that the cardinal also discussed the Mexican question with President Wilson and expressed the hope that peace would be restored there. After leaving the state department the cardinal called on the papal delegate.

Mrs. Harron Fails In Divorce Complaint

BRITISH CHEERED BY VICTORIES

By Associated Press.
LONDON, Sept. 2.—The British public has been greatly cheered by the version of the recent heavy fighting at the Dardanelles contained in the official report received last night from General Sir Ian Hamilton, the British commander-in-chief.

Sir Ian claims that his forces operating on the north section in the night captured an important tactical point commanding the Duvuk Anafarta Valley to the east and north as well as making an appreciable gain along the Australian front.

The Russians are developing unexpected strength north, where they state they are not only holding Field Marshal von Hindenburg, but have gained a local success near Vilna. Various changes have been made in the Russian command, the most important being the return of General Russky to the leadership of the Northern army.

Berlin wireless reports, which usually are a day or two in advance of the Petrograd official communications, announce a reversal in the Galician situation as the result of a victorious assault on the Russians north of Zborow.

NEGRO LAYS CRIME TO WOMAN

Mrs. Elizabeth Mohr Arrested After Tale of Shooters

Husband Killed on Road; Letter Figures as Evidence

By Associated Press.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 2.—Mrs. Elizabeth F. Mohr, wife of Dr. Franklin Mohr, who was fatally shot while on an automobile trip from this city to Newport on Tuesday night, was arrested today after three negroes had signed a written confession saying that Mrs. Mohr had hired them to kill the doctor.

The negroes are charged with murder. They are George W. Heals, the chauffeur who was driving Dr. Mohr's car at the time of the shooting; Cecil V. Brown, formerly employed as a hawker by Dr. Mohr; and Henry Spellman, half-brother of Brown.

Mrs. Mohr characterized the accusations as absurd.

Heals had been detained by the police since the shooting, as his account of the killing conflicted with that given by Miss Emily G. Burger, the doctor's nurse, who was also in the automobile and who also wounded Brown. Heals had told the police that he and the hawker had plotted to rob Dr. Mohr on the night of the shooting.

The authorities did not believe the stories of the negroes and Brown was subjected to an examination during which the police said he admitted he was concerned in the shooting and that Mrs. Mohr had offered him $2000 to kill her husband.

Heals and Spellman, questioned separately, corroborated Brown's story and the arrest of Mrs. Mohr followed.

According to Brown's story, given out by the police, Mrs. Mohr proposed several weeks ago that he kill Dr. Mohr, promising to pay him $5000 nine days after the killing was accomplished. He said he asked Spellman to help him out and brought his half-brother up to talk the matter over with Mrs. Mohr. Heals was present at this interview, by request of Mrs. Mohr. Brown said Spellman was to receive $2000 and Brown and Heals were to receive $1000. The arrangements for the shooting were carried out in detail, according to the confession. At a designated spot on the Nayatt road Heals started the engine of the automobile and Brown and Spellman, who had approached on motorcycles, crept through the bushes and fired at the occupants of the car. Brown said that Dr. Mohr and Spellman wounded Miss Burger. After the shooting Brown and Spellman went back to the motorcycles. They threw the revolver into a brook.

Mrs. Mohr was held without bail on the charge of having incited the murder of her husband.

During the morning Mrs. Mohr and three negroes were taken to Warren, the county seat of Bristol county, and arraigned before Judge Frank Lampert. The woman was charged with inciting to murder.

Before the party left the police made public a letter addressed to George Cooke, a brother-in-law of Miss Burger, and bearing the signature of Mrs. Mohr. Cooke said he had received the letter a short time ago.

The communication follows:

"Dear Mr. Cooke: Just a line to ask you to tell your sister it she dares to go into my Newport home she will never come out alive. I am giving her fair warning, no matter what the outcome may be. I will see it through. I was told about her buying them

'GREEN' HORSE TO BE MADE IMMUNE

War Summary

By Associated Press.
The Russian fortress of Grodno seems to be nearing its fall. Today army headquarters at Berlin announced that the outer forts of the stronghold had been taken.

Only artillery engagements and bomb fighting are reported from the front in France.

Berlin has reports from Paris that France and England stand ready to assist Russia by detaining expert military strategists to the headquarters of Grand Duke Nicholas.

The German admiral, prompted by the report of a British naval reviewer, declared that a small British cruiser and a British torpedo boat were surprised and sunk by a German torpedo boat flotilla off the Jutland coast on August 17. The cruiser is now stated to be of the Aurora class. Vessels of this class displace 3600 tons.

ARABIC CRISIS AT END, SAY OFFICIALS

Government Will Turn Next to Problem of Neutral Shipping.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—An officer of the White Star liner Adriatic, which arrived from Liverpool today, declared that the German submarine which sank the Arabic crew were now prisoners in England. He said that within the past sixty days the British have captured not less than fifty German submarines.

After stating positively that the submarine which torpedoed the Arabic had been captured, the officer said he could not disclose the place of capture nor detail the circumstances.

He said, however, that the U boat was of the latest and largest type in the German navy and that it craft could not double cross. He understood that the Germans now manned all of the large submarines with an auxiliary crew for training purposes.

Six survivors of the Arabic arrived on the Adriatic were Mrs. Margaret Atkinson and her son, Arthur Atkinson; Mr. F. C. Allison, W. Barthurst, Mr. M. Chapman and John Doherty.

None of the passengers saw the torpedo which sank the Arabic. Doherty said he was in his stateroom when he heard a shout and started for the deck. Before he had gone far, he said, he was shot many feet from the air and landed in the water.

ENGLAND "CAN'T CONSENT."

By Associated Press.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—That Great Britain cannot be a consenting party to a settlement of the submarine questions which pertain to a peace and the preservation of a class apart from a merchantman.

"Our case has been admirably defined by President Wilson both in the letter he wrote on February 10, when Germany had given notice of his intention to abandon legality, and in the further note after the sinking of the Lusitania. In these no distinction was made between a liner and a merchantman. We cannot help hoping the United States will put in record that it stands by the whole of the doctrine so forcibly expounded in the President's earlier communications."

SEE END TO CRISIS.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—With both oral and written assurances from the German government, transmitted through Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, to the State Department, regarding Germany's submarine policy, officials of the Washington government today looked hopefully forward for an ultimate and satisfactory settlement of the whole submarine problem. Assurance is given that liners will not be sunk by German submarines without warning and without safety of the lives of non-combatants, provided the liners do not attempt to escape or offer resistance.

Count von Bernstorff's letter contained the information that the new policy of Germany had been decided upon before the steamer Arabic was sunk.

Officials here are gratified with the German announcement and it is believed to end the crisis in the relations between the two governments. They consider that the way has now been prepared for a final adjustment of all differences.

Germany's next communication, it was said, authoritatively, will be a formal disavowal of the sinking of the Arabic and reparation will be made for American lives lost in the disaster if the attack was made by a German submarine.

The Messenger of Rome indiscreetly reported the proceedings of cabinet meeting at which was revealed a sharp difference of opinion whether Italy should declare war on Turkey. The Messenger's article, which was suppressed by the censor, showed that Premier Salandra was wavering. The matter was clinched when the British ambassador at Rome, Sir J. Renell, made such strong representations on behalf of his government that the king was unable to withstand the pressure. England stated that unless Italy declared war on Turkey the British government would be obliged to withhold money and coal.

To Have Waoy Hair Like Nature's Own

Here's a brand new recipe, of unquestioned merit, that I advise you to make note of, unless you are one of the few possessors of naturally wavy hair. It's very simple, for all you need do is to apply this to your straight hair at night with a clean tooth brush. And the morning you will find this has dried in the sweetest, curly and waves imaginable. They will be just like Nature's own, having no resemblance to the effect produced by soap, nor is it in the least bit artificial.

The application is really beneficial to the hair, and gives it that lively lustre and sparkle that you desire to obtain. A few ounces of the Hornford's Acid Phosphate will suffice to keep the hair curly for many weeks—there's no reason now for putting up with either that straight, lumpy hair or the curling iron. TAFT HONORED AT EXPOSITION

Presentation of Loving Cup, Tree Planting, Fireworks and Aviation Features.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Escorted by cavalry to the Exposition grounds where, a few years ago, he turned the first spade of earth and started the work of building the great "Jewel," former Pres. William Howard Taft, was honored today at the completed fair, when "Taft Day" specifically set aside in his honor was observed. Presentation of a loving cup, tree planting, fireworks and aviation flights were among the features of the day.

The former president, accompanied by his official car, planted the tree, commemorating the day in "Taft Day," holding the same silver spike with which he broke ground for the fair. Motion picture records of the ground breaking were shown the former executive yesterday.

PRESENTED LOVING CUP.

President Moore, Mayor James Rolph, and several others spoke at the opening exercises. A large loving cup, appropriately engraved, was presented by the former president by B. H. Hale, president of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition.

William Howard Taft, ex-president of the United States, by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, position on "Taft Day," September 2, in grateful remembrance of his untiring friendship and the fulfillment of his confidence that "San Francisco" is the genial guest of the Yale alumni of San Francisco, at a banquet at the Fairmont Hotel last night.

The former president was in a happy mood, and in his remarks alluded to the "splendid hospitality" of California, told Yale stories and exchanged repartees with other speakers. But it was in his report to the United States Ambassador to the United States, to Secretary of State Lansing in Washington.

TAFT'S MOOD HUMOROUS.

"The commissioner has said that there is a price upon his head, and that he fears the consequences when he returns to Turkey," Taft said, "but let him not despair, for political conditions change with great rapidity at times, and let him take comfort from the fact that it is now possible for me to visit California in perfect safety."

"It used to be said," he remarked, "that there were certain things a boy must go through at college to establish his character. That isn't true, and it is no longer the observance at Yale."

NO BAIL FOR MEN.

The three male prisoners were charged with murder and also held without bail. All four pleaded not guilty. They were locked up at Warren pending a hearing set for September 16.

Mrs. Mohr was arrested this morning at the Mohr home in the exclusive Elmwood section and was turned over to officers from Bristol county, within which the killing was done Tuesday night.

She appeared not to be the least disturbed. She is diminutive of body and was dressed in a blue tailored suit and a modish straw hat. Before being taken to Warren she sent out for a brown veil which she so arranged that all but the lower part of her face was concealed.

She greeted the officers and her counsel with smiles, and when told

Carranza Forces Reported in Revolt: Troops Trail Bandits

By Associated Press.
BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Sept. 2.—A detachment of Troop C, Third U. S. Cavalry, and a band of Mexican bandits were reported engaged in a battle this afternoon eleven miles north of Brownsville.

Cavalry and infantry are being spread out rapidly from Fort Brown in an effort to surround the Mexicans who set fire to a railroad trestle fourteen miles north of here after midnight this morning and who have been raiding cavalry stations since then. Thirty of the Mexicans were seen about 7 miles north of here at noon, according to reports reaching Fort Brown.

The funerals will be held tomorrow privately at a time and place not announced, to avoid demonstrations.

Long before the scheduled hour for the arrival of the train crowds thronged the down town sections of the city, moving along slowly toward the union station.

At the station a squad of policemen questioned them and ordered those not having bought tickets out of the building.

Meanwhile the train had stopped only a few blocks to the rear of the crowd and the bodies were taken off under guard and hurried to an undertaking establishment, which was heavily guarded.

PLAYGROUNDS WILL BE CLOSED TO CHILDREN

Thirty Recreation Centers Fall Before the Order to Meet Allowance

Thirty Oakland school playgrounds will be closed this year.

This was the disquieting announcement brought forth last night when Commissioner W. H. Edwards, ex-officio member of the school board, moved that the school playground activities of the city be discontinued as there will be no funds in next year's budget, as trimmed by the city council, to provide for such activities.

"I am in favor of playgrounds, and extremely sorry this has occurred," said Edwards, who is commissioner of the city's revenue and finance. "But we will not have the money."

The discussion of the situation brought forth a bitter denunciation of Mayor John L. Davis and the council from Alderman Florence Brown, who moved that the mayor, after consulting the Board of Education, be allowed to meet the school budget.

"He has not treated us with dignity, and I object to this board of education being made a plaything," she said.

Edwards' request that the playgrounds be discontinued followed a vigorous argument by the school board to induce the city council to leave the funds for these activities in the school budget.

The Board of Supervisors are legally unable to appropriate funds for these uses, the city charter specifically stating that the city council must fix taxes for this work, and the playground department dismissed.

"We had better decide whether we are going to close the grounds or not right now," said Edwards. "For there is no money, and we cannot go on unless there are funds. The city will carry five school playgrounds and eight city playgrounds, and that is all."

"This board has been treated with a lack of dignity," said Miss Brown, "and I don't like to see a board of education played with."

"When the Board of Supervisors promised us a hearing they gave it," said Dr. Kelly.

BOARD PROTESTS.

As a matter of fact, it was stated on the board members after the meeting, the tax rate had already been decided on when the mayor promised a hearing, and which officials did not inform them that the matter was already ended, but promising to hear them before the budget was completed.

"The last council," said Miss Brown, "treated us fairly and kept its promises. It is only a proper courtesy when one branch of a city government asks a hearing of another to give it."

"How about Mayors' wives' letter on the school electricians? That was never answered. How about being courteous to the mayor," demanded Edwards. "The board sidetracked the mayor and his letter. That was not courtesy."

"As a matter of fact," said Director Boyle, "The Mayor was misinformed. He thought that the city could do some work free. I explained everything to him and he was satisfied, the day after we got his letter."

"That is a different case anyhow," said Miss Brown. "We did not pledge our words of honor to grant the mayor a hearing. But we were promised a hearing and we did not get it."

"The mayor is very busy," said Edwards.

"Well, he says he's spending all his time on the job," said Dr. Kelly. "He ought to be able to do a great deal."

"I move we close the playgrounds," said Edwards.

"Nothing doing!" shouted Boyle. "There is a bunch of calamity howlers yelling about our shutting up the parks and playgrounds. Let's borrow the money to keep them opened up."

"Well, then, sorry the playground commission is to meet again to consider the school playgrounds, and let them vote on the situation. Unfortunate, personally, I have playgrounds, though."

"Well, the council doesn't show it," said Kelly.

"The charter distinctly states that the city shall furnish money for playgrounds," said Mrs. Hawes.

BOYLE INDIGNANT.

Director Harry Boyle will be a busy man if all the matters referred to him by the school board to be decided by the city council, are followed up vigorously.

"I am in favor of playgrounds, and extremely sorry this has occurred," said Mrs. Hawes.

"The charter specifically states that the city council must fix taxes for this work, and the playground department dismissed.

"We had better decide whether we are going to close the grounds or not right now," said Edwards.

"What chance do you think there is of voting a bond issue?" asked Director Kelly.

"What are you talking about, Harry?

"Well, that's all good enough, but it will take six months to hold the election so we ought to start this right off tonight," said Boyle.

"There was no second to his motion, the remainder of the board declining to even discuss the proposition.

OBSERVATORY PLAN HALTED.

"We are up against it," said Edwards. "The board paid $499 on account and have a $20,000 telescope to pay for, a piece of land and a $6000 building."

"The old council promised us the money," said Miss Brown.

"And we are saddled with it," said Edwards.

The board decided to protest the paving of Talant street before the Hawthorne school. Forty-six per cent of the residents have protested, and the school vote is the balance of power.

"It is time to practice a little economy, and the street is in good shape anyhow," said Edwards.

"Well, he says he's spending all his time on the job," said Dr. Kelly. "He ought to be able to do a great deal."

Save the Babies.

PANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven million, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a life of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations, tonics, mixtures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain opium or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, "poisons." In any quantity, they stupefy, retard circulation and lead to sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse; it causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the skin and allays fever.

Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

"POTENTIAL MAN" BELIES SEX; OFFERS PROBLEM

MASQUERADE IS ENDED, SHE SAYS

Remarkable Life Story May Be Told in Court by Pretended Man.

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Professor Eugene de Forest, who described herself as "a woman with the soul of a man" when detained by the police Tuesday night, was granted permission by the police department today to continue wearing the garb of a man, as she has done here during the past twenty-five years.

Permission to appear as a man was granted when Professor De Forest insisted that even the touch of feminine garments would kill her.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—Is a "Potential Man"—a man's soul disguised in a woman's body—possible?

This is the question lawyers, doctors and psychologists are asking in the court case of Eugenia—or Eugene—De Forest, the woman who for 25 years has masqueraded as a man, and as an actor has for long played male roles. Professor De Forest was only exposed as a woman through Mrs. Aletha Gilbert, Los Angeles "copper" who brought to light the fact that the "man" was really a woman. Professor De Forest says she will wear women's clothes in future, and try to act the role she has so long since forgotten—that of a woman.

The story of the woman's remarkable life as a man reads like a novel. She made love, it is declared, to Mrs. B. Durang. She posed as husband to another woman. Another time she was married to a Los Angeles newspaper man.

Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz will defend Professor De Forest, if the police prefer charges against her through her defense.

"I was born a girl with the soul of a man," declares the recently disguised woman.

"There was never such a time in my life that I can remember when I was not torn by this problem. As a little child they gave me dolls to play with when I wanted boy's toys."

"I suffered through grammar school and they sent me to Vassar. I wept like a girl while my soul was racked because they would not send me to a man's college."

"Dr. Avery became my friend and finally my confidant. She probed my soul and later, she adopted me as her son. She understood my nature and agreed with me that it was the only possible life I could live."

TELLS OF MARRIAGE.

"Then came the end of my first marriage. Mr. Hart, a newspaperman, and a splendid, gallant gentleman, fell in love with me. I was his 'Eugene' and he was violently in love. I avoided him, but pursued me for many months. Finally, overwhelmed by his storm of protests against my refusing him, I consented to become his wife."

"I was, as I am now, sexless. I told him the truth before I married him. I explained that I had the body of a woman, the thoughts and characteristics of a man. It would have to be a marriage for companionship, based on mutual interests and a desire to help each other lead happy lives."

"Before he died he went to Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, who knew my problem. 'Promise me, Clara, that you will always be a good, true friend to Eugene. She will need it,' he said. And on his dying bed Mrs. Foltz promised—and has kept that promise ever since."

"A few years went by. The man nature grew stronger in me. I could not help it! It swept me along, forcing me into a living paradox of life. I struggled to adjust myself, to adapt my life so that I could make the best of this strange sort of man."

"I have tried to live without harming any other human being. And I swear to God I have never harmed another."

"Finally, I went to a prominent San Francisco doctor, to the mayor of San Francisco, and to several other city officials, and laid my case before them. I received certificates, which I can produce, saying that no one should molest me in my character of man, as I was justified in assuming a male role."

BECAAME A MAN.

"And so I became a man. After a few more years I met Margaret Burton Hawley, who was the housekeeper at the home of Dr. Gordon Bruce Kinkley but was not his cousin, as has been stated. We became great friends and finally intimate chums."

"She wanted to marry me and proposed marriage. I told her there were obstacles in the road but she declared that we could sweep them aside. So I told her what the obstacles were and explained that if she became my wife it would be in a marriage in the ideal—there would be no relation of husband and wife, but a companionship based on higher planes."

"She consented and said we would at least have a home together. But she became unhappy and we were separated. During all this time—my life time—I had carried my vocation as an elocutionist to the highest planes. I have shared honors with the world's greatest artists."

B. FAY MILLS TALKS TO LITTLE LANDERS COLONY

This is "Distinguished Visitors' Day" at Hayward Heath, the home of the Little Landers in the Hayward hills.

Accompanied by William E. Smith, the founder of the movement, Dr. B. Fay Mills, the famous evangelist, and Mrs. Elizabeth Towne, editor of the Nautlius Magazine, and well known leader in the New Thought movement, together with Mr. Towne and Mr. James W. Abbott, the Western State Government Representative of the Good Will movement reached the new colony at 10 a.m. They found the civic center crowded with an eager and enthusiastic audience.

The Western State Government intended to find a good sized community which had grown up in about four months time, and especially interested in the new kind of life on the land, illustrated at Hayward Heath. In their addresses they discussed the significance of the movement from the human and social standpoint, and the possibility of its extension throughout the United States.

Insurrection Suspects To Face Courtmartial

PARIS, Sept. 2, 5 a.m.—Dispatches from the Portuguese frontier, says the Journal's Madrid correspondent, state that rebels arrested as the result of the insurrectionary movement at Braga will be condemned to death.

At Coimbra insurgents tried to storm the barracks but were repulsed by rifle fire. Although the government professes to attach no importance to the revolutionary movement, every precaution has been taken and it has been announced that anyone approaching the barracks or military buildings, night or day, will be shot at sight.

SWISS TERRITORY IS VIOLATED BY AIRMEN

By Associated Press.

GENEVA, Switzerland, via London, Sept. 2.—German aviators violated Swiss territory for the fourth time. Five German military aeroplanes flew inside the Swiss frontier opposite the French town of Delte.

Although under fire from French artillery, the aeroplanes turned back. One damaged machine came down near the Swiss village of Entle. It afterwards took to the air and escaped toward Alsace.

CLUBWOMEN TO LAUNCH SEASON

ANITA KING STARTS HIGHWAY TRIP NEW YORK IN 18 DAYS IS HOPE

Twenty-fifth Century Members Will Formally Open Activities Next Tuesday.

The season at the Twenty-fifth Century Club of Berkeley will be inaugurated next Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Wallace Ford of Martinez, former president and one of the most popular members of the club, will deliver a "Federation Message," a talk on "The Modern Clubwoman," by Mrs. Dorothy Moore and announcements by the officers of the club. The other features will include the other features of especial interest. The meeting, which will be attended by members only, will be formally opened by the new president, Mrs. Aaron Schloss.

The exposition is to furnish the inspiration for the program at the first social affair, Tuesday, September 21, at the club. On this date Miss Elizabeth Young, Women's Christian Association officer, who has been engaged in social service work on the fair grounds, will present "The Human Side of the Zone." "The Course of the Exposition" with illustrations, will be described by Mrs. Rose V. S. Berry, one of the official Exposition lecturers and a well-known clubwoman around the bay. Those "to do" in the Exposition, speakers, entertainers and Reception, Miss H. N. Baldwin, Mrs. Anita Little Harry, Mrs. Wm. H. Davyport, Mrs. C. S. Merrill; tea, Mrs. Geo. A. Mattern, Mrs. H. M. McLaughlin; decoration, Mrs. E. A. Necker, Mrs. H. A. Jackson.

Mrs. Ethel Moore will address the members of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Wm. Fink School tomorrow afternoon at 3:15 o'clock on "The Importance of Playground Work." Mrs. W. H. Marston of Berkeley will also speak presenting "Parent Co-operation With Teachers." The session will be held in the new assembly room of the school.

Throughs of members and guests filled the Home Club rooms last evening when, with a brilliant dinner and an interesting program by Marshall Darrach, Shakespearean interpreter, the club season was launched. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Stratton presided as host and hostess with the assistance of a large serving party, and the president, Daniel Easterbrook. After the reading the audience floor was cleared for dancing and card tables were arranged in the reception rooms.

The Piedmont Civic Club will resume activities tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m., under Mr. Dan Colodge of Berkeley, president of the Calliope Civic League, will address the members on the general subject of work to be accomplished during the coming season. She will be followed on the program by Vice-Principal H. D. Brasfield of the Fremont High School, who will speak of "Vocations Guidance from the Parents' Standpoint." That is the club theme.

President, Mrs. John Bell; first vice-president, Mrs. William Sims; second vice-president, Mrs. M. B. Graham; recording secretary, Mrs. J. H. Deleary; corresponding secretary, Mrs. P. S. MISS ANITA KING, A CHARMING FILM CELEBRITY, WHO HAS STARTED TO DRIVE A BIG KISSEL CAR ALONE TO NEW YORK. G. W. ENNIGS (LEFT) AND BEN HAMMOND, WHO LED THE ESCORT OUT OF OAKLAND.

To win a handsome wager—a $2500 automobile—from her manager, Jesse Lasky, motion picture magnate, Miss Anita King, one of the stars in Paramount Pictures, left Oakland yesterday for New York City. This point she hopes to reach in eighteen days. She is driving a big Kissel car across the continent. One of the stipulations in the wager is that she must not be assisted in any way by a male companion. At control points along the line where this car is represented the agency may assist her in making minor adjustments.

The daring and nervy attempt on Miss King's part came about as a result of a remark made to a group of film celebrities by Lasky that it would be at least ten years before the Lincoln highway from ocean to ocean could be in such shape that a lady could make the drive without difficulty.

Miss King, an expert driver, hearing the remark, immediately challenged this statement from her manager. One word brought on another.

first luncheon of the season at the settlement clubhouse and will discuss plans for the big charity performance of the "College Hero," to be given next month in the Municipal Auditorium.

The discussion terminated in the proposal by Lasky to pay the expenses of a trip from Los Angeles to New York by way of San Francisco and Oakland and to purchase a high-powered car for Miss King if she were to be successful in her conquest.

PLANS ARE MADE. Plans were speedily formed, a route laid out and the car prepared for its severe task. Wednesday, August 26, she started from Los Angeles on the first leg. She landed in San Francisco in a fraction under eighteen hours, remarkably fast time when it is considered that she drove all night and made short stops only en route to the Exposition. Her car was locked up when it arrived across the bay.

Tuesday night it was driven onto the stage of the Imperial Theater in San Francisco, a message from Mayor Ralph was presented her to be carried across the land to Mayor Mitchell in New York, after which she was forced to tell the audience the "why" of this most unusual journey for a lady to attempt.

Yesterday morning she was greeted by more than two dozen owners of Kissel cars in this city, who met her at the foot of Broadway and escorted her to the city line. Bulletins of her progress over the Lincoln highway will be received here every few days.

LIVERMORE SPEED COP'S MISHAP COSTS REVENUES

When Lester E. Wright, county "speed cop," met with an accident last Sunday which sent him to the Livermore hospital with a broken collar bone, the county lost considerable revenue in the way of fines for violators of the speed laws. Wright, in the mishap following his being struck by an automobile driven by Otto C. Kuerzel of San Francisco, lost his automobile containing the names and numbers of the persons and no chimes he had held up. Wright had arrested an auto party from Pittsburg, Pa., and was standing beside the car when the other auto struck him.

AUTO AND MOTORCYCLE STOLEN BY GANG. BELIEF

An automobile and a motorcycle were stolen last night, making more than ten motor vehicles which have been stolen in Oakland during the last ten days. All the thefts are believed by the police to be the work of an organized band of men thieves. The automobile is the property of L. S. Hotchkiss, 435 Hudson street. It was taken from in front of the Plaza building at Fifteenth and Washington streets. E. C. Street is the owner of the stolen motorcycle, taken from the basement of his home, 2443 Telegraph avenue.

Jewelry valued at $150 was stolen from the home of W. Machek, 1141 Forty-first street, by a burglar who jumped over window last night. Mrs. Asta Wolcott, 491 Sixty-third street, reported to the police that she had been removed from a bureau drawer while she was away from home last evening. Coin and articles to the value of $15 were stolen from the home of J. H. Jansen, 1928 Fifty-first avenue.

SCHOOLDAY ROMANCE CULMINATES IN WEDDING

With the marriage last night of Miss Ethel Carlson and George F. Wood at the Centenary Methodist church in Twenty-fourth Avenue, was culminated a romance between the couple which began during their school days in Fruitvale. They went to the home of Deputy County Clerk J. C. Holland and obtained a license and an hour later had invited their friends to the ceremony.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carlson of Laguna street, and the groom is connected with a Fruitvale mercantile company. After the ceremony an informal dance was given in honor of the newlyweds, following which the couple took the south to their honeymoon. They will reside in Fruitvale.

THE RICH MAN AND LITTLE LANDERS

Wm. E. Smythe's Illustrated Lectures Friday.

A rich man who attended the first lecture on the Little Landers seven years ago in another part of the State called the next day and said:

"Somehow you have stumbled upon the greatest truth in the world. Ever since I started, a poor boy, I have made a slave of myself to accumulate wealth in order that I might enjoy certain conditions of life. The very things which I sought to obtain through the possession of wealth this movement of yours will bring within reach of our common humanity."

What did he mean?

The answer to that question will interest you—the illustrated lecture is a social document of real importance. It foreshadows the coming of a new and more attractive life of the lander life that has already come to pass.

Here the story of this new life as actually experienced by the people on the soil, illustrated with one hundred striking pictures. Here the teacher who shows the Little Landers how to do it; of the co-operative marketing; of the organized social life in Civic Center—Garden City practically within the Metropolitan District.

LIFE RECRUITS TO HOLD CONVENTION

Sessions Will Be Under the Auspices of Alameda Co. Christian Endeavorers.

Missionaries from the Orient, local clergymen and active churchmen and women will join in the Life Recruit convention to be held next Friday evening and Saturday afternoon under the auspices of the missionary department of the Alameda County Christian Endeavorers. The sessions are to take place at the First Christian Church, Webster and Twenty-third streets.

The opening event will be a banquet at 8 p.m. on Friday evening. At this the Rev. Dr. Wm. W. Dabney, pastor of the First Christian Church, will preside and there will be an after dinner speech by H. H. Ironsides on "The Great Life Laid Down," that is to be apropos of the conference theme, "The Last Laid Down."

Also addressed by L. B. Richards of Berkeley, who is the Rev. Dr. J. B. Nichols and a messenger from the State missionary department. Mrs. Mae Flathers, will complete the program for Friday.

Several prominent clergymen and missionaries will address the conference on Saturday evening. The speakers will be Rev. Dr. W. E. Crouter, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Oakland and Rev. Dr. W. E. Crouter, pastor of the First Lutheran Church of Oakland and the Rev. Francis J. Van Horn of the First Congregational.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE'S PAGE for WOMEN and the KIDDIES

FOR THE THIN GIRLS

(By LILLIAN RUSSELL)

(Copyright, 1915)

MANY girls write me that their bony necks are "thorns in their individual flesh" and invite me to earn their everlasting gratitude by showing how to gain round throats.

I am not so sure as to their gratitude when they learn that the only road to the fulfillment of their wishes is careful physical culture, not the semi-occupied life young ladies of today lead, whose principal exercise is chattering, which does not tend to round or attractive throats. It is a physical fact that many of our young women actually talk the flesh off their bones, the quick effort of mind and voice being of a most wearing kind. My reference is any teacher who has to talk in her school half as much as these girls do every day of their lives.

The first thing they must do is to provide themselves with boxes of charcoal tablets, which come at 15 cents, fifty in a box. These charcoal tablets are invaluable for purifying the breath and blood, so that the food taken affords its best nourishment. Then use filtered water and drink plenty of it. Eat figs and apples before meals, and when really hungry, at other times. Always brush the teeth carefully and rinse the mouth after each meal.

The corrosive acids formed in the mouth inflame the stomach and waste flesh and have much to do with the scrawny-ness of women. At breakfast eat hot maple syrup, cracked wheat, fresh soft-boiled eggs, three if possible, and good coffee with sugar and cream and meat or fish as preferred. At night on retiring take milk or calves' foot jelly beaten with orange juice and a fresh raw egg, or a tablespoonful of pure olive oil mixed with honey and a few drops of lemon. Something in the shape of light refreshments before going to bed is the best recipe to gain flesh rapidly. Nourishment taken then is not wasted in exertion, but laid up in the form of tissue, which rounds the figure and forms a little reserve for the next day.

Women who work hard should always take, if possible, some little agreeable thing to eat or drink before sleeping. A cup of chocolate and a graham wafer, or a cup of clam broth, will build up the strength better than tonics.

To develop the muscles of the throat and shoulders and gain a graceful bird-like flexibility as well, practice turning the head from one side as far as possible, slowly at first, and never very fast, for that wrinkles the throat. Try this five or ten minutes every morning and evening, bathing the neck well with warm water and rubbing the throat with some pure nourishing cream after the evening ablution. A linen handage wet with pure olive oil worn round the throat nights will nourish the skin and flesh; especially after one is warm with exercise.

Singing is, however, the best method of gaining round contours

LILLIAN RUSSELL'S ANSWERS

MADELINE—This exercise in conjunction with deep breathing exercises will rid you of those ungracefully protruding shoulder blades. Stand erect, weight on the ball of your foot, hands on your chest, fingers pointing horizontally toward each other, with your elbows on a level with your shoulders. With your eyes raised toward the ceiling, slowly bend your body forward at the hips, keeping your eyes fixed on the points you have chosen. Don't let your elbows sag. Practice this faithfully every day.

BEAUTY SKEETER—I wish it were in my power to give you the only thing your heart desires, but a soft, velvety skin and a good complexion depend alone upon good health. The best medicine I can suggest for you is careful diet and plenty of fresh air and sunshine. The green soap treatment is excellent to remove blackheads, but as the formula is much too lengthy to print I shall be glad to mail it to you if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope. Do not eat rich and spicy foods; avoid oily meats, such as pork and veal, pastries and sweets. Drink cocoa, milk and chocolate instead of tea and coffee. Drink plenty of water between meals. Walk at least three miles a day. Get a good night's rest and guard against constipation. It will take some little time to clear your complexion.

MRS. H. R. H.—The epsom salts paste is used externally for reducing flesh, but it should not be used on the face. WINTER IN THE EAST.—At the ceremony, which is set for 7:30 o'clock, and at which Rev. Albert F. Smith officiates, a wedding dinner will be served. Later the couple will depart on their honeymoon. On their return will occupy a residence adjoining the Zeigefuss home in Telegraph Avenue. Mr. Porter is the son of Mrs. John Newton Porter of Oakland.

Later she spoke of it to her hostess. It was dreadful, she said, to hear Mrs. Blank speak unconcernedly of killing a son, and was it customary in the army? It seemed like murder, she added lightly, to the horror of the Oakland girl, who never dreamed that the case was horse, but supposed Dr. Blank had cold-bloodedly dispatched a man.

After the ceremony, which is set for 7:30 o'clock, and at which Rev. Albert F. Smith officiates, a wedding dinner will be served. Later the couple will depart on their honeymoon. On their return will occupy a residence adjoining the Zeigefuss home in Telegraph Avenue. Mr. Porter is the son of Mrs. John Newton Porter of Oakland.

GUESTS AT FAMOUS COUNTRY HOME.—Mr. and Mrs. William Hinckley Taylor, who expect to leave for the East today, will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor's uncle, Mr. E. G. Benedict, at his beautiful estate, "Indian Harbor," near Greenwich, Conn. The house is a masterpiece, surrounded by very beautiful gardens. The slopes lead to Long Island Sound, and has been the scene of brilliant entertainments. It was there that the late Mr. Grover Cleveland was frequently a guest, and many other celebrities have accepted the hospitality of "Indian Harbor."

EIGENFUSS-PORTER WEDDING.—It is evening at the home of Mr. and J. N. Zeigefuss in Telegraph Avenue, where Miss Florence Sloper, daughter of Mr. James Porter, there will be twenty-two guests at the wedding, of them relatives, but the decorations will be artistic and beautiful. They will be absent two months, will enjoy a trip on

Mr. Benedict's yacht, the "Oneida," on which Mr. Cleveland, the late Joseph Jefferson and Laurence Hutton enjoyed many cruises, of which both Jefferson and Laurence Hutton wrote delightfully. Mr. Benedict, who has been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor for many years, is a brother of Mr. William Hinckley Taylor.

LEAVES FOR THE SOUTH.—Mrs. Mark Regua will accompany Miss Amy Regua to New York the middle of September and will be absent until October. Mrs. Regua, the fiancee of Mr. Arthur Selby, at Princeton. At present she is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Oney Jr., at her home in Vernon street, while her son is also visiting. He will return to Princeton about September 18, but Mrs. Selby will delay her departure until later in the fall.

TO GO EAST.—Mrs. Mark Regua has returned from a summer visit to Europe and is planning to go east, probably to the Orient. Mr. Arthur Selby, at Princeton. At present she is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Oney Jr., at her home in Vernon street, while her son is also visiting. He will return to Princeton about September 18, but Mrs. Selby will delay her departure until later in the fall.

PLAN CHAMPION BALL.—A classical ball will be given at the Hotel Oakdale on the evening of September 24 by the "Ladies of Providence," who sponsored a similar affair so successfully last year. A number of well known society women are members of the society.

QUIET WEDDING.—Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the State Pharmaceutical Society entertained their guests at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakdale yesterday. About thirty were present and the hostess of the day was Mrs. George Phillips.

LUNCHEON AT THE OAKLAND.—Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the State Pharmaceutical Society entertained their guests at a luncheon at the Hotel Oakdale yesterday. About thirty were present and the hostess of the day was Mrs. George Phillips.

LEAVES FOR THE SOUTH.—The wedding of Miss Eleanor Russell and Mr. Cary Trow last evening was a affair, with the bridegroom in the center of the room, surrounded by the relatives of the bride. It took place at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. R. E. Russell in Alameda, and only members of the Episcopal church were invited. There were no attendants and the bride wore a simple traveling suit of old blue silk. She carried a shower of baby roses and lilies of the valley. After the ceremony the happy couple will live in Richmond, where the bride is connected with the Standard Oil Company.

BRIDGE AT EBELL.—The audience of the Ebell Club was filled this afternoon for the bridge party given under the direction of Mrs. Mark Regua for the benefit of the Anti-Tuberculosis Society. Mrs. Regua's contributions responded fully to the amount and many of those who are out of town sent their contributions instead of taking tables for the afternoon. There were over 200 players, however, and the room, decorated with palms and greenery, was a picture of beauty. A program of music and dancing preceded the games. Miss Dorothy and Miss Lillian Smoller, in costume, and Miss E. L. McCormick played piano and violin. For dinner was the highest score at each table were corsage bouquets of varied flowers.

Among the players were Mrs. William Creed, at whose table were Mr. G. C. Moore, Mrs. George East and Mrs. Landen Redmond. Mrs. Gordon Stob, whose guests were Mrs. Vanderperch, Mrs. Worden and Mrs. Goodrich; Mrs. A. H. Glasscock, who entertained Mrs. M. Sweeney and Mrs. J. C. Moore; Mrs. H. Miller, Mrs. Minor Goodall and Miss Violet Whiteman who shared a table; Mrs. Sam Bell Wakefield, Mrs. Fred Turner, Mrs. Charles Houghton, Mrs. Louis Gladwin, Mrs. R. C. Craig, Mrs. Edward D. Clegg, Mrs. Robert Fitzgerald, Mrs. Henry W. Taylor, Mrs. Fred Sherman, Mrs. W. S. Palmer, Mrs. Arthur Harris and Mrs. E. Howard.

MISS SLOPER A HOSTESS.—Miss Florence Sloper was hostess at an informal supper party at her aunt's home in Piedmont last Sunday evening, in honor of her sister, Miss Bernice Sloper of Sacramento.

Women in the News

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—"Women must sacrifice their sons to the defense of their country now, as they always have done. I am bringing up my boy, not indeed in the hope that he will be a soldier, but in the hope that he will be a useful and willing soldier should his country call."

This was the reply of Mrs. A. Howard Clark, one of the founders of the Daughters of the American Revolution, to those who criticized her for admitting that she is "raising her boy to be a soldier." Mrs. Clark recently made known her plans for her son and declared that boys should be raised to be soldiers.

Howard S. P. Clark, the ten-year-old boy whose career has provoked discussion, is already preparing himself to shoulder a rifle or carry an officer's sword. He is enlisted in the Washington Guards, an organization auxiliary to the Sons of the Revolution. This auxiliary organization is made up of boys from 10 to 21 years old.

Howard is now with his parents at Hotel Maryland, Pasadena, on their way to their home in Washington, after attending the annual gathering of Sons of the Revolution at Seattle. The father, A. Howard Clark, is an official of the Smithsonian Institute at Washington and is also secretary-general of the Sons of the Revolution. Patriotism and service is the keynote of the life of this family.

Mrs. Clark in defending her belief in preparedness denounced the Carnegie and other peace movements which seek to instill in the minds of the young that war is a thing of the barbarous past.

SPOUSE OF PLATT WIDOW IN JAIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—William B. Atwater, aviator, who married the widow of former Senator Thomas C. Platt, is in Ludlow street jail for failing to obey an order of the United States court directing him to pay $500 to Jacob A. Decker, his trustee in bankruptcy.

Mrs. Atwater has not come to the rescue of her husband, because she does not think the debt is just.

Atwater made $16,000 in 1912 in a trip around the world and collected $100,000. He went into bankruptcy a few months ago.

During his examination before a committee in bankruptcy the aviator testified that his wife objected to him giving any more and preferred to have him remain in Central Valley to supervise her estate. He said she allowed him spending money.

BARONESS ADVISES WOMEN TO FENCE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—Baroness Olga de Meyer, champion fencer of the world, declared yesterday that American women would be healthier and happier if they became expert with the foil and devoted their leisure to perfecting themselves in the art of fencing rather than dancing.

Dancing, according to the baroness, exercises a number of muscles of the body, while fencing exercises much of the body.

She said: "The women of San Francisco should make wonderful fencers," said the baroness yesterday at the Fairmont Hotel.

"They are graceful, exceptionally bright and alert, and have a grace and charm which nothing else can match. They are graceful, exceptionally bright and alert, and have a grace and charm which nothing else can match."

In many cases the skill in compounding a prescription is as important as the ingredients themselves. Take, for example, a prescription for an eye ointment. Unless the ingredients were properly incorporated it might be more irritating and harmful than healing as intended by the physician.

In order to insure the proper compounding of prescriptions we adopt every facility possible and engage the services of only graduate pharmacists trained in prescription work.

We use the most scientific utensils, the most delicate scales and the most accurate graduates. Pharmaceutical appliances that enable us to compound better prescriptions are readily adopted and every possible means is applied to make our work more perfect.

We doubt if there is a drug store in the U. S. that gives more care to this feature of its prescription business.

Because of the care that we take in compounding prescriptions physicians have for many years recommended Bowman's.

ENLARGE YOUR VACATION PICTURES

Don't fail to get some enlargements made of your vacation snapshots.

Even the tiny pictures of the vest-pocket kodak make good enlargements. You can pick out a single person or figure from a photo group and have just that section of the picture enlarged if you desire.

Those who have shared your vacation with you will appreciate some pictures of this kind far greater than almost any other gift you could send them. If you have them mounted and framed they are doubly attractive.

ARGENTINE ANTS CAN BE EXTERMINATED

The University Authorities Have Given Us a Formula That Will Kill Off the Colonies.

If you are troubled with ants and are seriously interested in ridding your neighborhood of this pest you can do so by using Argentine Ant Poisons in your garden persistently and carefully.

This poison was first suggested by the authorities of the university and has been tried out and proven effective.

It is based upon the theory of killing the queens and thus cutting off the supply. It is readily taken by the worker ants and in turn fed to the colonies.

You can pick out a single person or figure from a photo group and have just that section of the picture enlarged if you desire.

Those who have shared your vacation with you will appreciate some pictures of this kind far greater than almost any other gift you could send them. If you have them mounted and framed they are doubly attractive.

GET YOUR RUBBER GOODS AT BOWMAN'S

There's a Very Good Reason For Buying Rubber Goods Of Us

All rubber deteriorates and as a result considerable care should be taken in selecting a store from which to buy such merchandise.

As a rule the largest store keeps the freshest stock because of their more frequent sales and the resultant necessity of buying fresh stock continually.

Have you hot-water bottles, absorbent cotton, gauze, vaseline, peroxide, syringe tubing, adhesive tape, alcohol, boric acid, etc?

If a woman with a dependent family would give as much attention to the supplies in her medicine chest as her husband gives to the articles carried in the toolbox and under the seat of his automobile there would be less needless suffering.

A good way to check up such a list would be to set down and try to think of the emergencies that might develop and the articles that would then be needed.

We sell great quantities of hot-water bottles, fountain and bulb syringes in various combinations, rubber gloves, elastic bandages, nursery articles, atomizers, tubing, etc., and are constantly receiving fresh, new stock direct from the best factories in the world.

A hot-water bottle, for example, that has laid upon a druggist's shelf for two or three years cannot possibly give the service that the same grade of bottle would give if purchased a few weeks after it was manufactured.

This is the reason why a great many people come here for rubber goods.

HOW ABOUT YOUR MEDICINE CHEST?

Is There Anything Missing That An Emergency Might Require?

It might be a good idea to look over your medicine chest and see what you need in emergency medical supplies.

For example, suppose one of the children should have an earache, or a toothache. What have you on hand to alleviate their pain until a physician can be called?

CHINESE MINISTER TO MEXICO HERE SPOILS SYSTEM IS SCORED BY TAFT

Dr. Koo Tells of Success of Educational Mission Plan in United States.

The educational mission of Chinese students to the United States is already bearing fruit in the way of bringing about among the Chinese at home a better understanding of Western methods and systems and paving the way for their introduction in the new republic at a much earlier date than many profound students of Chinese affairs expected.

Tide is the observation of Dr. L. A. Wedington Koo, the recently appointed Chinese Minister to Mexico, who arrived here on the steamer Perseus and is staying in San Francisco for a few days.

Before starting for Mexico City, Dr. Koo intends to visit all the educational institutions in this country attended by Chinese students. There are about 14 Chinese students in the United States at present, 5 of whom are government students under the educational mission plan, according to Dr. Koo.

This mission was established in 1903, immediately after the United States had voluntarily remitted to China $11,000,000 of the $24,000,000 Boxer indemnity China agreed to apply the portion of the amount paid to the education of Chinese students in American colleges and universities.

Under the agreement 100 students were sent over annually and since then fifty have been sent annually and this number will continue to come each year during the life of the mission agreement until 1936. Dr. Koo brought over 47 students with him and will place them in colleges with in the next few days.

The first two batches of students sent over have now completed their courses and have returned home. It is from these young men who have been given favorable placed in government and educational circles.

Dr. Koo says official results are to be expected in promoting closer American-Chinese relations. These students are introducing American thought, ideas and methods into China just as rapidly as they return home, he says, and the number of returned students is rapidly increasing. The American College Club in Peking now has a membership of 200, nearly all of whom are in the employ of the government.

Dr. Koo is one of the younger students of an American college to gain prominence through his ability. He came to America in 1904 and entered Columbia University. He graduated with the bachelor's degree in 1909, and the Ph. D. in 1911. He specialized in International law and diplomacy under the tutelage of John Bassett Moore, noted authority on international law and for many years counselor of the State Department.

He was summoned to Peking by President Yuan Shih-kai in 1912, and given the post of English secretary to the President as well as the office of secretary to the cabinet. More recently he has been counselor of the foreign office and a member of the President's personal staff. He has also served as a member of the treaty study commission, the foreign conference commission, the education commission and the commission to devise measures for the reform of the customs tariff in China.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1915.

GERMANY YIELDS TO UNITED STATES.

The German Ambassador at Washington informed the Secretary of State yesterday that "liners will not be sunk by our submarines without warning and without safety to the lives of non-combatants, providing the liners do not try to escape or offer resistance." This statement, submitted in the form of a written memorandum, defines the new policy of German submarine warfare for the future, and is, in part measure at least, justification of the promise made in Washington several days ago by Count von Bernstorff that his government would shortly announce a policy that would be entirely satisfactory to the United States Government.

This means much more than the mere assurance that the German government will take steps in the future to safeguard the lives of innocent neutrals. It means much more than compliance with the demands of President Wilson that the lives of Americans, traveling on neutral or enemy merchant ships, must not be put in jeopardy without due warning and proper measures for their safety being taken. It means the vindication of the law of nations. It means that humanity has certain unalterable requirements. It means the acknowledgement that certain principles of international law are indestructible.

As far as the United States, and all other neutral nations are concerned, it is the most important diplomatic victory since the war began. The issue between the United States and Germany was clear-cut and it was evident from the beginning that the position of the United States could not be surrendered or materially altered except at the price of a serious clash between the two governments. The United States Government based its contentions upon international law and the theory that the rights of humanity and the rights of neutrals, that the interests of peaceful industry and intercourse, are more important than the attainment of military goals. In the beginning of the German submarine campaign against British commerce it appeared to many of us that Germany had taken the position that international law had become obsolete and that she intended to put into practice a new code of warfare and to establish her own rules for the intercourse of nations so far as they related to Germany.

It is cause for congratulation, therefore, to find that the fundamental principle for which the United States government has always contended is to be recognized. This principle is not exclusively American; it is a principle to which all of the great nations of the world, in their sacerdotal moments of peace, have given their endorsement. It would be a fatal step of retrogression if an ambitious belligerent on either side in the war should be permitted consistently to disregard the rights of neutrals, as established and described by international treaty stipulations and defined by international law.

Added satisfaction is derived from the statement delivered by Count von Bernstorff through the disclosure that the German government, prior to the sinking of the Arabic, had issued orders to its submarine commanders that attacks upon merchantmen without warning and without giving noncombatants a chance to escape, unless resistance was offered, were to be discontinued. This order evidently had been issued following the receipt at Berlin of the American note relative to the sinking of the Lusitania. Therefore a touch of graciousness is given to the German compliance with the views of the United States through such a step being determined upon before the crisis over the sinking of the Arabic had arisen.

SUBMARINES FOR CHINA.

The report emanating from New York City that representatives of the Chinese Government are in the East negotiating the purchase of one hundred submarines at a cost of about $75,000,000 should not be taken too seriously, for several reasons. The most important is that if China can finance a loan of $75,000,000 government officials and the people very likely will insist that the proceeds be applied to more useful purposes. Many railway and industrial development projects are now in suspension because of the failure of European banking institutions to make payments on the loans they undertook to float. Recently China has attempted to raise money in the United States for these urgent purposes, but has failed.

In the second place, China has no need for one hundred submarines. The Chinese navy now consists of seven second-class and one third-class cruiser; two gun boats, and ten torpedo boats, half of them obsolete, with a commissioned and enlisted personnel adequate to man only about half of these vessels. China has given convincing evidence in recent years that she has passed that picturesque period in her national life wherein she was wont to purchase vast amounts of foreign "junk" and store it away as soon as commissions had been paid. As the government of China is now constituted, it may be expected that the necessity for incurring such large expenditures, as represented in the cost of one hundred submarines, must be clearly and convincingly established.

It may be that China would like to have a small number of submarines—say about ten. These would cost at least $7,500,000 and this would be a good sum to spend abroad in the present straitened financial situation. Mr. Charles M. Schwab, head of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation has established quite amiable connections in China and perhaps would like to supply the Chinese government with a large fleet of submarines or any other class of war vessel. The suggestion that China is negotiating for the purchase of submarines on behalf of one or more of the European belligerents must be discarded as being illogical as the report that she is to purchase one hundred submarines for her own use.

THE MODEST DESIRES OF MR. ESTERBROOK.

We gather the following joyous and stirring information from a Los Angeles dispatch: "Frank admission was made today by Henry Dodge Esterbrook, orator and prominent attorney of New York city, that he is willing to become a Republican Presidential candidate and that his present western trip is for the purpose of sounding out the country. Esterbrook has been making a general swing around the circle."

We are glad to know about Brother Esterbrook. Perhaps he is the Moses the Republican party has been looking for. There is historic precedent for the "wise" man who comes out from the east. We are at a loss to understand how this apparently eminent orator has managed to hide his name and fame for so long a time from the Republicans of the west. We presume it is because we are an unenlightened, self-centered, commonplace lot of people, largely given to minding our own business. Pacific coast Republicans and people are very hospitable to eastern visitors, but they like to know who they are and to have them explained.

Mr. Esterbrook has the right which belongs to every respectable American to cherish presidential aspirations. Every normal American boy is believed to be born with an eye fixed on the White House. We do not know what Mr. Esterbrook's qualifications for the high office of President of the United States may be, but we are sure that the people of this country will insist, if he is to be taken seriously, that they shall be very considerable. Our well-known public men and party leaders may be wanting in genius, in vision, in knowledge of human nature, but we know them and we rather guess that the people of this country will be inclined to put up for a few years longer with the leaders with whom they already feel acquainted. At first glance, Mr. Esterbrook's claims for consideration as a presidential possibility do not seem to be commanding. If he has done anything which causes him to stand forth as a man of superior attainment and character, to tower, as it were, above some ninety-nine millions of his fellow citizens, we do not know about it. He seems to be a successful lawyer and a man who has cultivated the habit of occasional oratory. Speech making and a knowledge of the law have not ordinarily been considered sufficient qualifications for the presidency.

We are inclined to suspect that Mr. Esterbrook's campaign for the Republican nomination is not wholly unlike that memorable effort which our dear friend John Hays Hammond made to capture the vice-presidency at the convention which nominated Mr. Taft in 1908. Mr. Hammond, who is a good man and who had a great reputation as a mining engineer, decided with apparent suddenness that he wanted to be Vice-President of the United States. His decision was so abrupt and unexpected that the people of the United States were not able to grasp it nor to understand why a man who had been a successful miner in South Africa was uncommonly qualified to be Vice-President and perhaps President of the United States. The delegates of the convention took this view and not one of them cast a vote for Mr. Hammond, although he was a man of far wider reputation and more eminent in his profession than Mr. Esterbrook appears to be in his. We suggest this historic incident of Mr. Hammond's Vice-Presidential aspirations for the prayerful consideration of the gentleman from New York, who announces his willingness to become the Presidential candidate of the Republican party.

A FORMER CITIZEN OF OHIO.
We observe that the people in charge of the Ohio Building at the Panama-Pacific Exposition have broken away from their domestic squabbles long enough to issue invitations for a ball in honor of former President Taft. It is quite proper for any respectable, well meaning person or association to desire to compliment an ex-President of the United States by giving an entertainment in his honor. The Ohio people are only doing, in this respect, what many other people in California are glad to do.

The odd thing about the proposed entertainment, however, is that the people who are largely responsible for the suggestion are unaware of the fact that Mr. Taft is no longer a citizen of Ohio and that he has and desires to have no special claim upon that state. He formally surrendered his Ohio citizenship shortly after the Presidential election of 1912 and transferred his residence to Connecticut, where he now resides and votes. Mr. Taft was born a Buckeye but he is one no longer. We trust our Ohio friends will not be too insistent upon the point of his Ohio status when they greet him at their ball.

Some Ohio people were inclined to resent Mr. Taft's formal departure from the state, but we see no justification for this attitude. Mr. Taft is a citizen of the United States in effect and he had his living to make. The place where he earns his salary is New Haven, Connecticut.

It is only natural that he should choose to become a citizen of that state, and to vote where he works and lives.

When the history of the fight for equal suffrage is finally written it doubtless will contain thrilling chapters on the much-photographed torch which the New York suffragists delivered to the women of New Jersey, the automobile which a sheriff seized for the unpaid taxes of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and the cradle of Lucy Stone's first-born, sold for unpaid taxes.

ADVICE ON HOW TO CHOOSE A WIFE.

Six hundred bachelors, some young and some pretty old, spent their unbroken hours the other day receiving "advice" given by Dr. Winfield S. Hall of Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., Medical School on "Choosing a Wife."

"I don't see any bald heads in the audience," said Dr. Hall, "so I take it for granted you all are good candidates for marriage. By that I mean you have sound health, are morally clean and can support a wife if you win one."

"Imagine the girls of your acquaintance lined up before you but of the possible six to twenty girls you are to choose a wife. Which one will you choose?"

"Four things must be considered—her health, her hereditary virtues, her education, and her age. Exclude from the ranks the girl of poor health. It's a calamity for a man to marry such a girl. Some of you may let her go before you marry her."

"Let her go into the woods for a year or so and develop the ability to walk fifteen or twenty miles and return without fatigue and with Dame Nature's princess rouge upon her cheeks. Then you may marry her, knowing she is of good health."

"Don't marry a girl just because she has a pretty figure and large lustrous eyes, she is a beautiful dancer. If at twenty she has only the mind of a girl of twelve years old. Among other suggestions he gave to the man considering choosing a wife were:

"Don't marry an heiress. You may become unhappy with her and her money."

"Don't marry into a family where there are traces of insanity or feeble-mindedness."

"Look up the health record of her parents and grandparents."

"Avoid the daughter of a confirmed alcoholic."

"When he came to that part of his lecture referring to the ages for marriage he turned to the blackboard, wrote down some figures and said:

"According to the best scientific research the figures on the board show the relative ages at which men and women should marry."

Here is the table as he wrote it: A man of 21 should marry a girl between 19 and 24 years.

At 25—one between 21 and 27.

At 30—one between 23 and 30.

At 40—one between 25 and 33.

At 45—one between 25 and 35.

At 50—one between 45 and 50.

At 60—one between 45 and 60.

At 70—one between 60 and 70.

"When a man gets to be 50 years old," he continued, "he should not expect to rear a family. I advise such a man to marry a widow with several children."

"When a man of 60 or more marries it is only for the purpose of having a nurse during his declining years. It is unfair for him to marry anyone younger than himself. He should marry a childless widow or an old maid."

THE STATE PRESS.

Stung.

Richard Williamson who has been camping in the neighborhood of Salinas Springs was rushed into Salinas yesterday morning in one of Rossi's cars with a badly infected finger. Some venomous animal had stung him on the finger and the hand immediately swelled to such a degree and the pain was so intense he was brought in for medical attendance—Salinas Journal.

Popular Office.

Fifty candidates took the examination for rural carrier at Tulare on Saturday. The examinations occur under the new fifty-mile motor vehicle route system and are three in number, one each from Fresno, Tulare and Porterville. The positions pay from $150 to $180 per annum but the carrier must furnish his own automobile—Stanford Sentinel.

Chicken Feed.

With a ten-foot iron hopperdoor W. A. Thayer, rancher near El Centro, caught seven bushels of grasshoppers in an hour and a half. He declares the hopperdoor a great success. He is drying the pests caught and will use them for chicken feed—Holtville Tribune.

What Alled Him?

Harry Paine, who has displayed exceptional ability as a musician, and who was arrested Saturday after he had ordered six suits of clothing—three for himself and three for Richard O'Day, the singer, who is in the county jail—was reported to be improving at the county hospital where he was confined after his escapade—San Bernardino News.

Planting Trout.

The first of 500,000 trout that the fish and game commission will plant in the American river this season in the endeavor to bring the stream back to its former state, were turned loose Sunday, when 90 cans of trout were freed near Placerville, included in the lot were half a dozen different varieties of trout among which were numerous steelhead salmon that formerly made the American river their habitat—San Luis Obispo Tribune.

Black Fog.

The farmers around Neponset and Moro Cojo are very much worried these days over the appearance of a blight in their potato fields. It appeared first in spots in unprotected places and the Chinese potato growers who are very acute observers call it the "black fog." According to their theory a certain cold damp fog comes up and after a stiff wind blows it down into the plants, they immediately commence to rot with a sort of fungus growth. Several cases have been reported where the farmers examined their fields one day and the next morning after one of these "black fogs" they would find whole sections affected. And it seems to be worse on young potatoes than on old. After a plant is 100 days old the ravages of the blight are not so serious—Salinas Journal.

Fresno Not Contagious.

The fact reported in this morning's news column that there is not single case of contagious disease in Fresno at the present time will be regarded as good news. It is good news, but the fact that it is regarded as news at all shows that preventative medicine has not yet attained its objective. Undoubtedly the future, that the absence of contagious disease will be taken quite for granted, and the health officer will no more think of reporting the absence of contagious disease than it would occur to him to comment on any other absence; the fact that no wild Indians were seen on Mariposa street, for instance—Fresno Republican.

VARIETIES.

Had Right of Way.

When traffic was at its height on one of New York's busiest thoroughfares recently, and a long line of trucks on either side, moving continuously, made crossing dangerous for all foot travelers, a cat emerged from a produce store with a kitten dangling from her mouth, and essayed to cross the street. Each time she started her head had to turn back because of a truck, and her efforts quickly attracted a crowd.

Down from the corner came a policeman. He soon saw what was the matter, and while there was nothing in the traffic regulations to cover the point, he concluded she had to turn back because of a truck, and her efforts quickly attracted a crowd.

Going into the street he raised his hands in the way that truckmen have learned means "Stop!" They stopped.

The cat, seeing her opportunity, took a firmer hold on the nap of her progeny, and then, holding it high to keep even its curved tail out of the mud, she slowly and deliberately picked her way across the street.

"Twelve pence one shilling," said the schoolmaster. "Now, go on, sir, twenty shillings make one—what?"

"They make one mighty glad these times," replied the boy, and the teacher, who hadn't got his last month's salary, concluded the boy was right.

Newly-arrived American (to newsboy): "How marvelously cheap newspapers are in London, to be sure. We have to pay more than double the price in New York."

Newsboy (extending his hand): "You can pay double the price, sir, if it will make you feel any more at home, sir.—From Tit-Bits.

VINTAGE.

The vintage season is late and the wineries of the Sacramento valley will not begin crushing until about September 15, according to Secretary Shieben of the State Viticultural Commission. In the San Joaquin valley the vintage will start about ten days earlier.

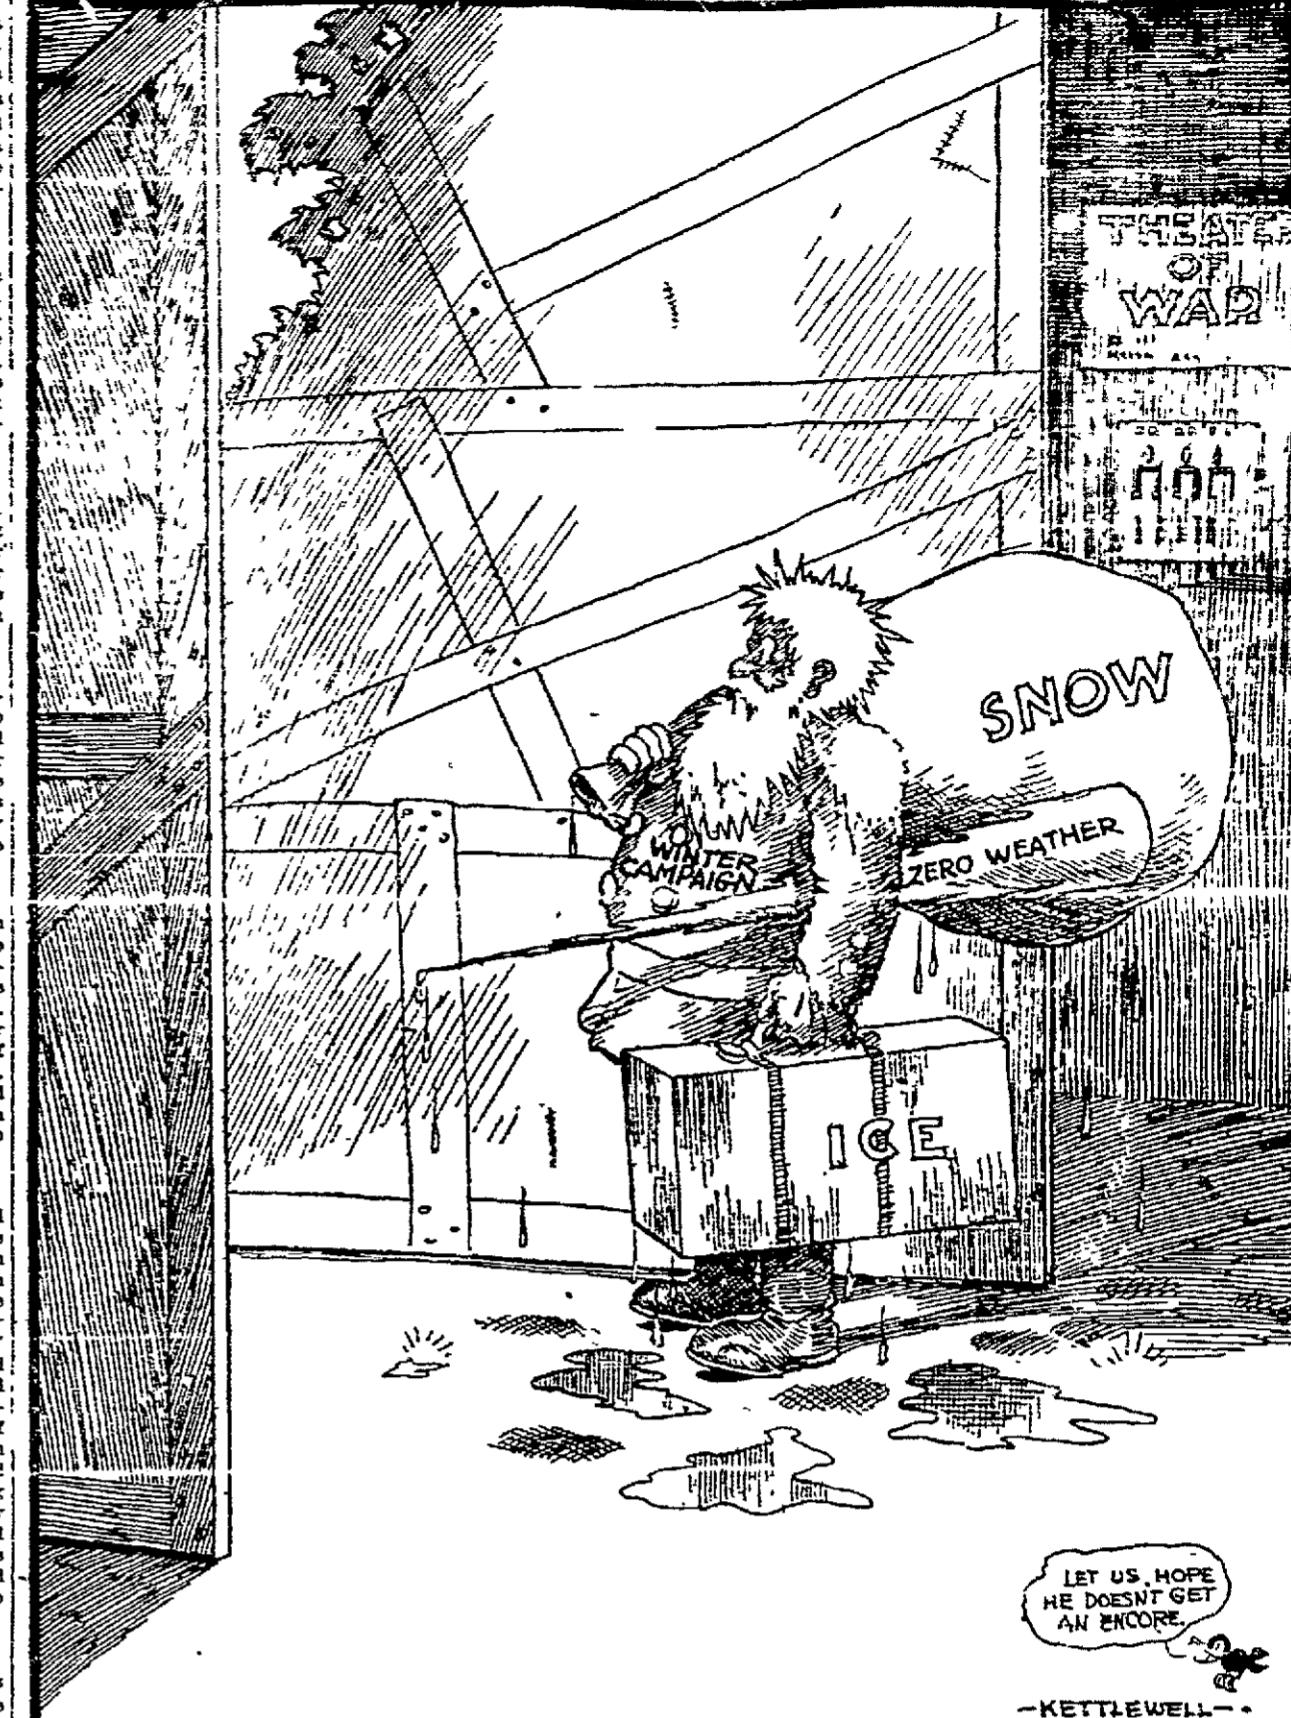

The entire tonnage of wine grapes in the state will not reach 75 per cent of a normal crop, estimates Sheehan. This is due partly to mildew, which is particularly prevalent in the Sacramento valley.

"Treasure Island," as constructed by Mr. Goodman, is in four acts and six scenes, showing the Admiral Benbow Inn, the quay at Bristol, the deck of the treasure ship, "Hispaniola"; Treasure Island, the stockade, Spyglass Mountain and Benn Gunn's cave.

TREASURE ISLAND AS A PLAY.
The opening attraction at the Punch and Judy Theater, in New York, will be a dramatization of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Treasure Island," by Jules Eckert Goodman. The play will be produced some time in October. The only person so far engaged for the company is Mrs. Charles Hopkins, wife of the producer, who will play the role of Jim Hawkins.

"Treasure Island," as constructed by Mr. Goodman, is in four acts and six scenes, showing the Admiral Benbow Inn, the quay at Bristol, the deck of the treasure ship, "Hispaniola"; Treasure Island, the stockade, Spyglass Mountain and Benn Gunn's cave.

READY FOR HIS SECOND PERFORMANCE

ENGLISH HUMOR.

Lady: "How is this insect powder to be applied?"

Assistant (absent-mindedly): "Give a teaspoonful after each meal, madam."

Lawyer (drawing will): "Your estate is much smaller, sir, than is generally supposed."

Sick man: "Yes; but keep that quiet till after the funeral. I want a good show of grief-stricken mourners."

And like other chaps go take a chance, But hark to the plebe of most miserable me."

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 2.—While Edward J. McLaughlin, foreman of the board of public works and brother of State Labor Commissioner John R. McLaughlin, lies in a hospital, with slight chance for recovery, his wife, who stabbed him last night in a quarrel, is being held by the police pending the outcome of her husband's injuries. She appeared before Police Judge Crist this morning, when the case was put over.

Although at the time of the stabbing McLaughlin's wounds were declared to be fatal, Dr. J. M. Toner, who has charge of the case, stated that there is hope held out for his recovery.

The stabbing last night followed a quarrel in the home of Frank M. Gorman, 280 Thirtieth street, opposite the McLaughlin home. They had been on an automobile ride and had stopped to visit the Gorman family. Mrs. Gorman, Mrs. McLaughlin, struck her husband and then, he advanced on her, seized a dinner knife and stabbed him.

Mr. McLaughlin, in a hysterical condition, accompanied his husband to the hospital and later, when detectives were questioning her, suddenly seized an inkwell and hurled it through the window.

Few details of the quarrel are in the hands of the police, the witnesses declaring that it happened so suddenly that they could gain but few facts.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 2.—That Ah King, wealthy Seattle Chinaman found dead Tuesday in a Sacramento, Calif. hotel with a bullet hole in his head, did not commit suicide but was murdered, was asserted in a letter received here by friends of Ah King from a San Francisco Chinese whose name is withheld.

Chee Hoo, a cousin of the dead man, was to arrive in Sacramento tonight to investigate Ah King's death. Seattle police have telegraphed the Sacramento authorities to provide special protection for Chee Hoo.

The belief prevails in Chinese quarters here, according to Look Le, a business associate, that Ah King was the victim of a tong feud.

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 2.—The body of Mrs. Eliza Simms, married three months ago to the Rev. John E. Simms, was found hanging today in a basement kitchen at the residence of Captain Merrill. A cord about her neck was attached to a hook in the wall. A chair nearby indicated she had jumped from it. Mrs. Simms was Miss Eliza Thomas, a teacher in the Grass Valley public schools.

Mr. Simms was a Congregational minister at Nevada City for 40 years. He retired recently. He is a Past Grand Sachem in the Independent Order of Red Men.

PASTOR CHOOSES SERMONS.

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 2.—In addition to being beaten with his own revolver, Earl Brown, a young convict paroled from San Quentin, was charged today with having attempted to kill Phillip Walsh, the man he shot when caught robbing a cigar store, and who therupon wrested the revolver from him and beat him down with it.

Brown and Ernest Cook were caught in the cigar store of George Woodward, who, with George Walton, saw them enter the place and emerge with arms full of goods. A fight started. Brown fired twice at Woodward and missed. Walsh, a garage man, heard the shots and rushed out. Brown fired at him, the bullet striking a rib over the heart. The garage man closed in despite the wound and overpower Brown while the other two captured Cook. Walsh will recover.

Kahler Blows Up and Seals Win Again

After holding the Seals to one hit in the first four innings, Kahler, in the fifth, closed off, blew up in the fifth, hitting four hits, issuing a free pass and bearing a batter, which allowed the Seals to pile up five runs and win the game.

Up until this time the Beavers had been leading 1-0. The Beavers cut out the Seals by a big margin, getting six hits off "Bugs" Fitzgerald in the three and two-third innings that he worked and slammimg Lefty Carter, who relieved him, for three runs. Fitzgerald, however, belted for Kahler in the ninth inning and finished the work on the mound, allowing two hits, one a home run, over the rightfield fence by McLean.

Louie Sepulveda started the rally for the Seals in the fifth with a clean single, left field. Jones had fanned and Carter was hit by a pitch. Sepulveda was second to Evans, but he won his bat, took off his cap and ran, leaving his last out from under and others including Evans in. It was in the ninth that Sepulveda came home as the winner of the weight meet.

The six furlongs for mares and geldings were to make to make the meet interesting and they both showed well before coming. Delmata was second to Evans' furlong in her first start at but she won her other two races, too, and was among those beat at the game was Metropolitan.

Other new starters that have good form are named in the seven events and the make up of the card can be seen in future issues.

The weights of the candidates for the Celeste, 100; Venus 111; Star 110; Dash 108; Zoroaster 106; Ante 100; Aida 97; Rhodes 100; bait 100; Poor Heals 100; Star Boy 96; Roy 104; Executive 100.

ANGELAS. Sept. 2.—Pitching hit ball against Vernon. Love won all for seven innings, only one man first while he was on the stand. It's double, scored one for the Angels in the first and a triple by Love in the fourth. Love pitched a one-hitter and a fielder's choice gave Angels only two runs in the fourth and Terry being caught off score.

Score: Angels 1-0. Love 10-2.

Angels 108, Dash 106; Zoroaster 106; Ante 100; Aida 97; Rhodes 100; bait 100; Poor Heals 100; Star Boy 96; Roy 104; Executive 100.

One conspicuous figure at the range is Schmidurk, Lark of the Midwest team, who has just arrived from Davenport, where he was at the mid-west championship at Davenport and also took fourth place in the individual competition.

He will be at the Golden Gate Park and Pinto Club today at the international courses, and will enter all contests as the representative of the Danish Rifle club of Chicago.

A beautiful silver trophy has been received from Congressmen J. Kahler and N. Clegg.

Mr. Kahler, a partner, president of the club, has done all within his power to insure this day a successful one for all members of the club will be at the range.

With the fifteen local organizations, the club will be the largest in the state.

The recruits expected by Manager Elliott have so far failed to put in an appearance and his team is badly crippled.

The score: Saturday, 10-10; Sunday, 10-10.

Bear Lake 10-10; Idaho Falls 10-10; Salt Lake 10-10; Ogallala 10-10; Cheyenne 10-10; Wyoming 10-10; Denver 10-10; Ogallala, Bear Lake and Wyoming.

GRAPES ADVANCE IN FRUIT MARKET

Seedless Create Main Movement, Going Upward 25 Cents to $1.75.

By advancing 25 cents to a range of $1.50 to $1.75, seedless grapes created the main movement in the fruit market this morning, where generally a fair tone prevailed. Quotations were only redefined from dropping, but fancy stock sold well. The market remained held firm, and they were selling readily at yesterday's high figures. This was partially accounted for by the increased supplies available for the market, but the demand in this range on seedless grapes. Scarcity of stock is also responsible for the advance in grapefruit to a top of $4.50 on fancy Sunburst and to $4 per other fancy varieties. There is a general feeling in the city of confidence on the market and it is selling easily at the prices that have held during the past few days. Quinces are now coming in from the border supplies, which are expected to hold firm, but as yet are not finding rapid sale. Berry consignments registered light, and the average price brought by strawberries was $2.50 per chest, for rail car load, at a wider range of $1 to $3 per chest. Figs are again plentiful and not especially desirable nor desired, but no nectarines put in an appearance.

The first carload of the first carload of bellefleur apples from Watsonville this arrival will be put on sale at 90 cents to $1 for 4 and 4½ per box.

Two changes were reported in the market, relieved of superfluous stock, is much improved and fancy grades this morning easily brought the top price of 75¢ per box. Supplies have been swamped a number of the dealers and the quotations early dropped to $1.25 per sack and by noon were difficult to sell over $1.50 per sack for fancy stock, which was disposed of occasionally as low as 75 cents. Small sacks of San Leandro green peas were selling at $1.25, with 3 cents per pound as the bulk rate.

ORDINANCE NO. N. S.
AN ORDINANCE APPROPRIATING THE SUM OF $150,000.00 OR AS MUCH THEREOF AS MAY BE NECESSARY TO BE EXPENDED BY THE COUNCIL IN CELEBRATION OF THE CELEBRATION OF SUNLINE BOULEVARD.

Be it enacted by the Council of the City of Oakland, as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of the General Fund of the fiscal year 1915-16 Entertainment Appropriation the sum of $150,000.00 or as much thereof as may be necessary to be expended by the Council in such manner as the Council shall determine, in assistance of public celebration held by the City at large on September 10th, 1915, for Skyline Boulevard, After Admission Day, and for the reception and entertainment of League of California Municipalities.

SECTION 2. This ordinance shall take effect immediately.

In Council, Oakland, Cal., August 31, 1915. Attest, John T. Hayes, Clerk, for the following vote: Ayres—Commissioners Anderson, Edwards, Jackson and President Davis—4. Noes—Commissioner Bacus—1.

Dated: August 16, 1915.

NOTICE INVITING STREET WORK

Pursuant to a resolution of the Board of Supervisors, Alameda County, California, passed August 20th, 1915, directing this notice, said Council has issued proposals or bids for the following street work, to be submitted according to the plans and specifications for said work posted and on file.

Twenty-fifth Avenue, from the south corner of the intersection of the south western line of Block 4 of the Kennedy Tract (as shown on the map thereof filed September 4, 1878, in Book 2 of maps of the City of Alameda) on Racine, a graded curb and recessed gutter, with concrete gutters, three (3) feet in width, paved with an oil macadam pavement and sidewalked with cement side-walks (6) feet in width.

That a causeway having an internal diameter of eight (8) inches, be constructed along the center line of Twenty-fifth Avenue from the production of the causeway of East Twelfth Street to said production of the south western line of Block 4; also.

That "Y" branches, each having a five (5) inch opening, be constructed on said causeway, one branch to be 100 feet long for each twenty-five (25) feet lot, and fractional lot remaining, into which the abutting property frontage, taken block by block, is capable of being divided; also.

That a conduit, having an internal diameter of ten (10) inches, be constructed along the center line of Twenty-fifth Avenue from said production of the causeway of the south western line of Block 4 to a point six (6) feet northeasterly therefrom; also.

That a brick storm water inlet with a cast iron top be constructed at the north eastern end of the causeway.

Excepting, however, from the aforesaid work the construction of curb on the north western side of Twenty-fifth Avenue, hereinafter parallel to and distant thirty-three (33) feet from the causeway (49) feet southwesterly from the south western line of East Fourteenth Street and between lines parallel to and distant nine (9) feet and twenty-one (21) feet northwesterly from the north eastern line of East Twelfth Street; also.
